

Roy Hanscom

Artist Statement

I enjoy working with clay, it is a material that sets no limits, and has practically no boundaries in its ability to adapt to my ideas and designs. My latest body of work is the exploration of a complex embrace of textural diversity and multi-dimensional layering of organic forms. Constructed of porcelain and a stoneware clay body, the forms are reduction fired to cone 9 in a gas kiln.