

James Klueg

As a ceramist, I'm enchanted and driven by the two kinds of visual sign that are images and text. I want to combine them in various strategies, to allude to narratives, to let the visual and conceptual signification of each, feed and rebound back and forth.